Statements from students:

„The semester abroad on Bali allowed us to gain a totally different insight into a foreign culture. To adapt to the local circumstances, we needed to leave our Western standards behind and “see further than the end of our noses”.

“Due to the stay abroad, we can now deal with continuation and development of business relations with customers from the Asian market more open minded and in a respectful manner regarding their culture and religion. “

“We learned a lot about Community Based Tourism, which is hardly found in Europe. By passing this course and visiting a lot of CBT villages, we gained new ideas for sustainable tourism.”
